Congressional News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The Oklahoma resolutions of Plumb and Vest came up before the senate. Vest withdrew his resolution and in so doing, he took occasion to say that there could be no doubt whatever that as the law stood, the Oklahoma lands were not at this time subject to settlement by white people. The president, therefore, was unable to do otherwise than as he had done.

HOUSE.

On motion of Lanham the senate amendments were concurred in to the house bill authorizing the appointment of a commission to run and mark boundary lines and to portion the Indian Territory and Texas in connection with a similar commission appointed by the state of Texas.

Cobb presented a conference report on the Oregon Central forfeiture bill which was agreed to.

The house recedes from its disagreement to all senate amendments. The house then went into a committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

The house went into a committee of the whole and considered the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, criticized that the section bill which prohibits introduction of ardent spirits into the Indian Territory, in that it fixed a minimum of punishment for that offense, and pointed out cases where such laws would work great hardship.

Mr. Keifer, referring to the Oklahoma question said, there was no desire on the part of the white settlers to go upon the Oklahoma lands and protest against anything being said in congress in defense of the action of those settlers. Every one of them should be driven out at the point of the bayonet from that territory.

The bill was then read by sections for the amendments.

Mr. Burnes moved to amend the paragraph appropriating $45,000 for the payment of interest to the Creek Indians, by adding a proviso that no part of this sum shall be paid until the Creek nation shall make and file acceptance and a ratification of the survey made under the treaty, and also a statement in writing releasing the United States from seeming trust created by the treaty as to half the lands sold to the United States by that treaty. It is under this treaty that the Oklahoma lands were ceded to the United States.

Mr. Ellis made a point of order against the amendment and it was sustained by the chair.

Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, offered an amendment providing that no part money shall be paid unless the Creek nation shall within twelve months make and file in the office of the Secretary of State an acceptance and a ratification survey, made and approved by the department under the treaty of June 14, 1866, and the additional lands acquired by the United States by a survey shall be held by the United States under the revision of the treaty adopted.

Mr. Burnes moved to strike out the paragraph, and in course of his remarks declared that Oklahoma to-day was practically in possession of cattle companies. The land was covered with cattle as thickly as carcasses were with flies. These companies covered every foot of it to the exclusion of individuals. Let congress investigate the subject before a settlement. The motion to strike out was lost.

In the discussion, which took somewhat of a conversational one between Mr. Holman and Mr. Ellis upon certain paragraphs of the bill, words of a warm nature passed between the two gentlemen, which were not generally heard by members. Mr. Holman had been making a five minutes speech when Mr. Ellis suggested that the remarks made by Mr. Holman cogitated upon his remarks, but they should have been directed to a subsequent action.

Mr. Holman replied that the gentleman should be more truthful in estimating the time during which he (Holman) studied speeches.

Mr. Ellis angrily retorted that he would permit no man to impugn his truth there or elsewhere, and that if anyone did so he would hold him to his responsibility.

Mr. Holman retorted that he had heard such language before and it was language of timidity. The matter here dropped.

After concluding the consideration of twenty-one pages of the bill, the committee rose, and public business having been suspended, the house proceeded the consideration of the senate resolutions, relating to the death of Senator Anthony, of Rhode Island. Eulogistic addresses upon the private life and public services of the deceased senator were delivered by Messrs. Chase, Spooner, Kelley, Poland, Morse, and Keifer, and then the house as an additional mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

NOTES.

The house committee on public health decided that by reason of the late stage of the season and the crowded condition of the calendars it will be impossible to pass this session the bill to protect the public health recently prepared by delegates from various state boards of health. The committee, however, decided to recommend the appropriation of $25,000 for the national board of health and $500,000 to be used at the discretion of the president in preventing the outbreak of cholera, should it appear in this country before the next congressional session.

The collections for the first six months of the fiscal year was as follows: Spirits, $34,064,395; tobacco, $12,732,399; fermented liquors, $9,510,492; miscellaneous sources, $151,232. Total, $56,518,568. Being $4,270,796 less than the receipts for the same period last year.

The Illinois Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 22.—Cronkite occupied the chair at the opening of the legislature this morning, and after some parliamentary sparring the democrats moved to make temporary the permanent organization of the house.

Points of order were raised that the house could not proceed in this way, but the speaker refused to entertain them and also refused to allow a vote upon the appeal from this ruling and directed a roll call on the previous question, which was lost, Haines voting with the republicans.

At midnight last night Haines resigned as temporary speaker of the house and Cronkite, a democrat, was elected.

DAKOTA.

BISMARCK, January 21.—At noon today the house took up the special order to remove the capitol from Bismarck to Pierre or some other point in south Dakota.

Mr. Southwick's motion to adjourn carried, 24 to 22, two members not voting.

TOPEKA, January 21.—The house today adopted almost unanimously a joint resolution favoring congressional enactment permitting an opening of the Oklahoma lands.

COLORADO.

DENVER, January 21.—On the first joint ballot the legislature at noon elected Secretary Henry M. Toller United States senator, to succeed U. P. Hill. Following is the vote: Teller, Republican, 50; Sullivan, Democrat, 20, and Haller, Republican, 3. Hill's name was withdrawn before the balloting commenced.

The War in Egypt.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A report is current that General Stewart has occupied Metemneh. This lacks official confirmation, but is generally believed as Stewart pushed forward with the greater part of his forces immediately after the victory Saturday near Abu Klea Wells. It is highly probable also that also all rebels who have been stationed at Metemneh left that point to take part in Saturday's engagement, and it is thought unlikely that they rallied and made a stand at Metemneh so soon after a decisive defeat. The government telegraphed public congratulations to Wolsley and Stewart.

KORKE, Egypt, Jan. 22.—The sheik of the Kababish tribe came to Korke today. He had heard of the British victory and promised Wolsley to provide him with plenty of camels.

Going of Thieves Arrested.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—The recent arrest of three men at Odessa, this state, for robbing freight cars on the Chicago and Alton railroad has revealed the existence of a large gang of men who have been systematically plundering the company's cars. Last night seven other men were arrested and brought into Lexington where they were jailed. It is estimated that this band has stolen nearly $30,000 worth of goods from the Chicago and Alton cars during the past few months. Other arrests are expected to be made.

An Argument Against Tobacco.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 22.—An explosion of natural gas near the workhouse, eight miles from this city, this afternoon seriously injured five men who had gone down into the ditch to repair a leak in the main. The explosion was caused by one of the workmen striking a match to light his pipe.

Killed His Wife's Father.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 22.—William Stewart alias "Coonskin," an eccentric character and backwoodsman living three miles from here, was killed last night by Robert Foster, his son-in-law. Foster and his wife had come from the Choctaw nation, where they live, to visit "Coonskin." During the evening they engaged in a quarrel about a trade and "Coonskin" seized a gun with the evident purpose of shooting Foster, when the latter drew a pistol and put two bullets into "Coonskin's" head killing him instantly. Foster surrendered to the officers.

A Thieving Clergyman.

PETERSBURG, Va., Jan. 22.—Rev. George Spencer, colored, of Norfolk, was convicted in the mayor's court today of petit larceny and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. He was also bound over for house breaking. Spencer preached at the Third Baptist church last Sunday night to a large congregation.

The Egyptian War.

LONDON, January 21.—It is officially reported that serious fighting occurred in Egypt and the result was satisfactory to Lord Wolsley. No further details have reached London.

LATER.—A battle occurred near Metemneh. An army of 10,000 rebels attacked the square in which the British forces were advancing several times, but was compelled eventually to retire. The rebels lost 800, killed, and 800 wounded. The English lost sixty-five. Among the number of British who fell was Lieutenant Colburn, who made the famous ride to Khiva.

Advices from Melbourne state that the commander of the Australian squadron hoisted a British flag over Louisa-ades, Woodland, Huron and the Enticestanth islands, lying off the eastern point of New Guinea.

A despatch has been received at the war office from General Wolsley, dated Korke, January 21, 3 p. m., which reads substantially as follows:

"General Stewart has had a heavy engagement with a portion of Mahdi's forces near Abu-Klea Wells, about twenty-three miles this side Metemneh. The rebels had collected from Berber, Mytemneh and Omdurman. This last place, I regret to say, the prisoners report was recently captured by Mahdi and thus men were released from there to fight General Stewart on the afternoon of January 16. General Stewart's cavalry reported that the enemy was in position some few miles this side of Wells. As it was too late in the day to allow an advance and an successful encounter, General Stewart bivouaced where he was for the night. The enemy kept up a harmless fire all night and worked on General Stewart's right flank Saturday. General Stewart endeavored to draw the enemy out and make an attack, but the rebels hesitated. In consequence General Stewart left all his implements, also camels, with the guard of Sussex regiment and some mounted infantry, and moved forward, keeping his forces in form square, all the men were on foot. The British army passed around the enemy's left flank, forcing them to make an attack or be subject to an enfilade fire. The enemy wheeled to the left and made a well organized charge under a withering fire from our men. The square was unfortunately penetrated about its left rear, where a heavy cavalry regiment was in position by sheer weight of numbers. The admirable steadiness of our men enabled them to maintain hand-to-hand fight with the opposing force, while severe punishment was being inflicted upon the enemy by all other parts of the square. The enemy was finally driven back under a heavy fire from all sides. The nineteenth lancers were then pushed forward to the wells, which were in our possession by five in the evening. The enemy left not less than 800 slain around the square. The prisoners taken while the enemy were preparing to depart and the wounded numbers quite an exceptionally one. The immediate effects of the battle is that many of the rebels are submitting

It was necessary to remain at wells some hours to obtain water. As soon as practicable it was the intention to push on with all expedition to Nelenenoh. The English wounded are doing well."

General Wolsley says General Stewart concludes his report as follows: "It has been my duty to command force from which exceptional work, exceptional hardships and exceptional fighting have been called for, it would be impossible to adequately describe the admirable support given to me by every officer and man of the force. I regret to say that our loss was severe, but our success has been so complete that it may dishearten the enemy to such an extent that all the future fighting may be of a less obstinate character."

Gen. Lord Wolsley says: "General Stewart's operations have been most creditable to him as commander, and the nation has every reason to be proud of his gallantry and splendid spirit of her majesty's soldiers on this occasion. Our losses were also commissioned officers killed and nine wounded, and sixty-five non-commissioned officers and men killed, and eighty-five wounded. General Stewart's force consists of about 1,500 men, all told."

SHIP ON FIRE.

The damage to the steamer, Acuba, at Dover, from Galveston, for Bremen, by fire in the cargo is very great. All the woodwork on the port side abaft and amidships was consumed. The hull is badly strained and it is not safe for the vessel to leave the harbor. Five hundred bales of cotton were saved from the cargo.

Supposed Case of Cholera.

ST. LOUIS, January 21.—A sensational account of two deaths here last Sunday, which is ascribed to cholera, was published to-day, but it is not creating any alarm or attracting any particular attention. The facts seem to be that Wolf Picknor, a Russian Jew peddler, living at 608 Washington street, was sick last Sunday morning with symptoms resembling cholera, and was removed to the city hospital during the afternoon, where he died. Dr. Dean, the hospital physician assigned native cholera as the cause of his death. The man's personal effects were destroyed and the room fumigated. He came here from New Orleans about ten days ago, and it is supposed he went to that city from New York, where it is said he has a family, but how long he has been in the country is not known. The other case was a colored man named George W. Evans, who died of what his attending physician pronounced cholera diarrhoea. He was a fireman in the engine room of Shickel, Harrison & Co's iron works, and had been sick several days. There was nothing in his case to attract attention, but the authorities seem disposed to ascertain who Picknor was and where he came from.

Sensational Arrests.

ROCKFORD, Ill., January 21.—A sensation was produced to-day by the arrest of Gideon Cooper and Wm. Larson on the charge of complicity in the murder of Marshall S. Pritchard, collector of taxes, in January, 1879. The arrests were made on information furnished by Jas. Banta, a forger in the state prison, who confessed it to judge of the circuit court here and claims to have been an eye witness to the murder. His testimony implicates two other persons and is very explicit. The murder was for money and heretofore there has been no clue.

It is reported the works will soon start up.

The Erratic Mercury.

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H., Jan. 22.—The thermometer recorded fifty degrees below zero this morning, one degree colder than the lowest temperature ever experienced before which was forty-nine degrees below in March, 1872. Probably no rougher weather was ever experienced than at the present moment. At nine this morning a northwest hurricane is blowing one hundred miles an hour and has raged for the past twelve hours. A Bloody Cutting Affray.

LOUISVILLE, January 21.—A bloody cutting affray occurred in a downtown coal office this afternoon, in which John King, white, was fatally stabbed, and John Neal and Hiram Fields, both colored, seriously wounded. Fields and King, rival coal peddlers, had quarrelled and were fighting when Neal ran in and stabbed King in the back. Butch Sanders, white, came to King's assistance and together put the negroes to flight. Knives were used freely and Ring was cut in the back and shoulders. He will die. Fields has a dangerous cut in the neck and head. Neal received a serious stab just over his heart.

Savings Bank Failure.

JAMESTOWN, Pa., January 21.—The Jamestown Savings Bank closed its doors yesterday and the officers are making a thorough examination of the books of the concern, to determine the exact amount of the alleged defalcation, which is said will exceed $40,000. One of the officers has been mysteriously missing for several days and the citizens are much exercised, as many of them had all their savings on deposit and can ill-afford to lose what they had laid up for a rainy day.

Beer Did It.

SCRANTON, Jan. 22.—This morning when Clerk Courzen, of Clemens & Co., opened the store he was horrified to see the body of a man dangling from the elevator chain in the rear of the building. It was the corpse of Louis Ladener, a Bavarian officer in the Franco-Prussian war, aged forty-seven. He had been out of a job for three months. Beer and melancholy did it.

AN AGED BAPTIST MINISTER.

Two More Important Cases.

Your agent being in Columbus, Ga., a few days ago, and meeting the venerable brother J. H. Campbell, he told me of the news. He replied, "I have two more important cases selected by Swift's Specific to report." This venerable man is known far and wide for his successful treatment of leprosy in the poor of Columbus. It will be remembered that the Swift Specific Co. has donated quite an amount of their famous medicine, to be distributed by Mr. Campbell among the poor of the city; hence his remark. He said: "I have just seen a lady who has been greatly benefited by a bottle of S. S. S. of her hands. She had given her much trouble and pain. She said she had been treated by several physicians during the past three or four years with all the remedies, but without any relief. I suggested Swift's Specific, and she took four bottles and is now apparently perfectly well. Her hands are smooth, and not a single sign of the disease left. It is marvelous how this medicine restores the system."

"What about the other case?"

"Well, that was a lady also. She had been afflicted with the disease for four years. Her face, hands and arms, as well as her body, was covered over with sores and scabs. It was one of the worst cases of this terrible disease that I have ever seen. The sufferings of the poor creature were beyond expression. She tried every remedy at command, including mercury and leeches or leeches, but she only grew worse. She was in this condition when I first saw her. I soon had her taking Swift's Specific, and she has now only taken two bottles, but every mark of the disease has almost entirely disappeared. Her strength and general health have greatly improved. It is one of the most remarkable cures that I have come under my observation."

"Mr. Campbell, you have had a long and varied experience in ministering with men, and observing their afflictions and the remedies used—what is your opinion as to the merits of Swift's Specific?"

"In a ministry of sixty years I have mingled with every class of society, and have observed closely the variety of diseases which afflict humanity. Blood diseases are the most numerous and the most difficult to relieve. It is my deliberate judgment that Swift's Specific is the greatest blood purifier ever discovered. There is nothing comparable to it. There is nothing so good as the Swift Specific. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Wabash passenger train No. 42 was four hours late this morning, and No. 44 came in nine hours late, owing to a wreck at Logansport, where a train was mangled up and sent on.

George Bullard arrived in the city last night. He hails from Hickman, Ky., and came via Cincinnati, where he visited his sister, Miss Bertie, who is at school there. He returns to Kentucky in about two weeks, accompanied by his mother.

Two sleighing parties were out last night to defy the elements. The Misses Hanna and Mrs. Murray Hartnett managed the party that went out to the Goeglein homestead, and the T. T. E's. went to New Haven to do the light fantastic.

Charles Sorg, known professionally as Charles Wayne, left to day for New York city where he will play engagements for a time. Wayne does a very clever song and dance act and is quite a gentlemanly fellow. He is a Fort Wayne boy and Mrs. Sorg wishes him well.

The indications for the lower lake region as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL are as follows: Fair weather, warmer in western portion, falling followed by rising temperature; in eastern portion, westerly winds generally shifting to southerly, rising followed by falling barometer.

The occupants of apartments in the Odd Fellows' building were aroused early this morning by the cries of a woman, evidently in great distress. Marshal Meyer was sent for at 6 o'clock, but when he arrived all was quiet. He was urged to force an entrance into the room from whence came the moaning.

Mayor Zollinger returned last night from Indianapolis. He tells us the legislative committee on city and town will report favorably three bills of interest to Fort Wayne. The first relates to the opening of streets and alleys, the second compels contractors to receipt on the estimate book, at the city clerk's office, for all moneys paid by the property owners on street, sidewalk and sewer improvements, and the third compels all people injured from defective sidewalks to file their complaints inside of sixty days from the time of the accident.

Last night was the coldest of the season. The wind began to blow sharp towards evening, and at 9 o'clock the thermometer marked 10 degrees below zero. At 7:30 this morning Thieme's thermometer stood 11 degrees below and slowly modified as the day progressed. The "oldest inhabitant" was in great demand all day and got in his work in great shape whenever he found a fire and an assembly.

A weather signal dispatch, received yesterday afternoon by C. H. Newton, agent of the Wabash, predicted a cold wave from the southwest in twenty-four or thirty-six hours, and a consequent drop in the temperature of from fifteen to thirty degrees. By the way, THE SENTINEL can say that H. W. Mordhurst will put up a staff and signal flag on his new drug store, but in the meantime will post the weather predictions at the old stand. Mr. Newton will furnish three dispatches daily and THE SENTINEL wants to commend the enterprise of the clever railroad man.

A $900 BLAZE.

The Grocery and Saloon of Zoeller & Merz gutted by fire—Cold Work for the Firemen.

An alarm from box 1-6, a little after 8 o'clock this morning, called the fire department to No. 372 Calhoun street, where the grocery store and saloon of Zoeller & Merz was in flames. The fire originated from an over-heated stove and when the firemen arrived the blaze was fierce. Water was put on the building and the conflagration was speedily subdued by the brave fire laddies, who are heroes in their way. Water froze almost as fast as it struck the house and a bursted hose flooded the street car track for a square. Chief Hillrecht tells us the damage to the store and stock will be but $900, and that amount can repair and replace both. The building is owned by Dan Kluta. He holds an insurance, as do also Zoeller & Merz, entirely sufficient to cover all damages.

To cure an ordinary cough or cold take one dose of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry before going to bed at night. It will cause a suspension of nervous excitability, allow you sweet repose, and by morning the cough will be gone. It is the best and therefore the cheapest cure for coughs, colds and consumption; is sold by druggists generally, and ought to be found in every intelligent household.

INDECENT EXHIBITIONS.

The Authorities Asked to Stop the Shameless "Adamless Eden" Caricatures and Suppress the Display of Obscenity—Who has the Courage to Do Right?

The authorities of Brooklyn have notified all theater managers in the city that any further posting of theatrical show bills with indecent representations of half clad women will subject them to vigorous prosecution. This is a step that could be followed with profit by every city in the land, says the Lafayette Courier, with unanswerable arguments. The "Adamless Eden" pictures now occupying the dead walls and the Bentz-Santly revealed beauty which not long since occupied the boards, are disgusting examples. Such representations cannot fail to be pernicious in the extreme. Not a day passes but a crowd of boys and half grown youths may be seen in front of these pictures, their eyes glued to the gorgeous prints, and filled with that strange unwholesome light emanating from a soul already under a polluting and baleful influence. We believe there is a law against indecent publications and a stringent one, too, with heavy penalties for exhibiting them. We ask the mayor or the prosecuting attorney, if his honor is too modest to act, to enforce that law. We ask him to do more; we ask him to place an embargo upon the production of such plays as the "Adamless Eden," said to be the most indecent exhibition of female loveliness in the world. It may be very well to exhibit the good points of fat stock at our county fairs, but such an exhibition of female plumpness is certainly out of place anywhere, save in the slave market at Cairo or in a fashionable ball-room. It cannot injure the sultan of Turkey to feast his eyes on naked women any more than it can injure the average society man to feast his eyes on half naked ladies, but in behalf of the common people and the rising generation we enter our most solemn protest. This longing for undress uniform on the part of a woman, be she a member of the upper ten or the damsel of the lower ten, is one of the worst signs of the times. It is either the cause or the result of the present low state of morals, and we have no doubt but that it has much to do with the appalling frequency of divorce. When men can stand with their head over the bars and look into other than their own pasture lands, they are apt to either vault or break down the intervening obstructions. To the women of America guilty of such unwomanly immorality we cry: For shame! Cover your nakedness! To the authorities we say: Do your duty, and those who have not modesty, force to at least assume the garb of modesty. We have no patience with this fashion of wearing garments at half mast as if in mourning for lost decency. Away with it. It is not suited to this rigid climate anyhow.

THE COUNTY TREASURER.

The Value of Real and Personal Property in Fort Wayne—Interest Statistics.

Deputy Treasurer Mike Wickliffe, after several weeks indefatigable labor, has just completed the record showing everything relative to property interest in Fort Wayne and Allen county. The figures are the result of careful work and are of paramount interest to every citizen of the county. The total value of assessed lands and improvements in Allen county, outside of the city, is $9,901,615; of building lots and improvements in all the townships in the county is $8,920,208, and of this amount all but $378,025 is represented by the city.

The total amount of personal property in the county is $6,066,710, of which $3,766,115 is represented by the city, making over $1,000,000 more personal property returned for taxation in the city than in the county. This makes a total value of taxable property in the city and county of $23,718,520, of which $12,308,295 lies within the city limits.

The total amount of delinquent tax charged to the county treasurer is $35,258 for the city, and $34,575 for the county, or a grand total of $69,833. This is $12,000 more delinquent tax in the city and $10,000 more than in the county for last year.

The total amount of current tax charged to the treasurer for the year 1884 is $449,458 of which $208,070 belongs to the city. The year preceding the total amount was $418,043 showing an increase of 1884 over 1883 of $31,495, of which increase $14,694 is made upon city property.

There are 9,846 citizens of the county over twenty-one and under fifty years of age who are assessed for road tax. Of this number 4,759 live in the city and 4,885 in the county. This shows an increase of seventeen in the county and forty-three in the city.

The levy in the city this year for county purposes on the total valuation is $1.30 for each $100 valuation. This is one cent less than last year. On poll tax, is $2.50 per capita. Last year it was $2.75. In the different townships the levy ranges from $1.30 to $1.95 and poll tax from $2 to $3.

It Was All for Charity.

The concert and literary entertainment at Library hall last night was a great success, as is about everything our friend John Mohr undertakes. Hon. Charles McCulloch made the opening address and it was both appropriate and learned. He defined the influences under which children grow and depicted the disadvantages of poverty. He paid a nice tribute to Rev. Father Brammer, the St. Vincent de Paul of Fort Wayne, and likewise did honor to William Gaffney, our best township trustee. The address was received with much favor.

Miss Ida Kellogg, a very pleasing lady, sang solos with nice effect and with O. W. Williams, of Indianapolis, rendered the duet, "A Night in Venice."

Mr. L. P. Stapleford rendered a guitar solo. The instrument would not yield sound and few could hear the music. Mr. Stapleford is great on this instrument, just the same.

Charles Becht, of Indianapolis, and John Mohr, of this city, did the honors on a Knabe grand piano. Mr. Mohr appeared owing to the absence of Theodore Pfafflin, who was called to Columbus, Ohio, where his wife is ill. Miss Carrie DeWald, by request, filled one of Mr. Pfafflin's numbers and recited "Society Setting a Hen" to the delight of her hearers. Miss Erin Fleming essayed the "Beggars Boy," and Miss Addie Gaffney the "Beggars Girl" in the sweetest way possible. The hall was packed and a few hundred chairs were ushered into service. The proceeds of the entertainment will be donated to assist the poor of the city, irrespective of race, color or creed by the St. Vincent de Paul society.

The piano used was a Knabe Grand, from the house of Theodore Pfafflin & Co., Indianapolis. It is certainly one of the finest instruments in Northern Indiana. Its tone is as pure as silver and its music charms. The instrument jumps into popularity here and Messrs. Pfafflin, Becht and Williams can feel that they go home with laurels. Their instrument is a beauty in every way.

AFTER TWO OTHERS.

Sheriff Nelson and Deputy Hance on the Track of Frazee and Snyder, the Accomplices of Scott, the Train Wrecker.

Prior to receiving his sentence last evening Scott expected Dr. Virgil to come in and testify as to his insanity, but the doctor refused to commit himself and Scott will have to serve thirteen years for tampering with the prairie switch. In his statement in open court, yesterday, Scott said Kelly Frazee and John Snyder were his accomplices in the attempt to ditch a Wabash train. Frazee boarded at Scott's home, in Abolt township for three months, and that is how Scott was pulled into the counterfeiting of money by Frazee and Snyder who did the crooked work. It was Snyder who taught Scott how to displace the railroad switch and made him do the work under threat of exposure for his connection with the counterfeit business.

Last night a warrant was sworn out against Frazee and Snyder and Sheriff Nelson and Deputy Sheriff Hance left at midnight on the track of the desperadoes who will wear iron bracelets if they are in the state.

Scott will be held here to testify against his accomplices. They will be prosecuted by J. R. Bittenger, who so nicely ditched Scott up yesterday.

Scott tells his story straight after the manner of a green country lad. "What made you confess?" said Judge O'Rourke to him. "The crime was on my mind," said Scott, "and I couldn't stand it any longer, even if I have to suffer. I did not realize the nature of my offense at first. I confessed to Sheriff Nelson."

J. R. Harper testified as to the good reputation Scott's family enjoy in Abolt township. The prisoner's wife, mother and sister are greatly afflicted at the idea of the young man going to prison.
